MRS. JANE BLANCHARD

Aged Maysville Woman Died Sunday Morning At Her Home In the East End.

Mrs. Jane Blanchard, one of Maysville's aged and respected old ladies, passed away at her home at the corner of Second and Commerce streets, Sunday morning at 7:55 o'clock after a two months' illness, aged 90 years. Mrs. Blanchard was before her marriage, Miss Jane Tudor and the most of her long life was spent in this city, where she made many friends.

She is survived by three children, Mrs. Mollie Owens and Mr. Henry Blanchard of this city, and Mr. Charles Blanchard of Richmond, Cal.

The funeral arrangements have not et been completed.

SNOWBALLED THE BAND.

Sunday afternoon after the mass neeting at the Gem Theater, a numer of boys were assembled near the Stephenson & Keith garage and proeeded to snowball the Maysville band with great vigor, causing several to retreat. Chief of Police Mackey soon on the scene and secured the ames of the boys and told them to appear in Police Court this afternoon.

The practice of throwing snowballs at people unawares is very dangerous and a young business man of the West End almost had one of his eyes put out last week by being hit by a hard snowball.

A few fines would soon put o the dangerous sport.

Mr. William Norris and nephew of Houston, Tex., and Mrs. Fred Wedder and Mrs. Martin Laden, were here Phone 43. late Joseph R. Carpenter.

THE ADVANCE IN GASOLINE.

Resolutions are pouring into Congress demanding an investiga tion of the high price of gasoline. The petitioners are quite a different element from those who have previously protested against price advances. Many of the gasoline users have been quite calm while meat, grains and fuel have been mounting upward. It is a politically influential element, which Congress can not afford to

Of course, this advance is at least partialy due to the law of supply and demand. The consumption of gasoline has multiplied, while supply has remained stationary or has declined, though reopening of the Mexican and Russian wells would help out.

Whether or not the gasoline producers can be reached under the anti-trust law is a matter that Congress should thoroughly investigate. Even if they can't, it will be poor policy for the producers to push their advantage too far. They should remember that scientists and manufacturers are already actively at work to find a satisfactory fuel oil at a lower cost.

At present such substitutes are denatured alcohol, kerosene, etc. may cost too high, or in some cases may clog motors with waste pro ducts. But every cent the gasoline people tack on their price simply stimulates these efforts for a substitute, which one day are almost sure to be successful.

For the present it looks as if the motor user must adjust himself to somewhat higher prices. People of moderate means would do well, in estimating the cost of a machine, to make a liberal allowance for fuel oil . They can offset it by buying less expensive cars. The cheaper makes may not be able to take hills on high speed. They may be a bit "tinny." But people should not be so soft that they previous night were of ordinary size it on the check he had forged, but as can't stand a little jolting. ### NO OCCASION TO FANCY.

Commenting on the fact that the Federal Reserve bank has been born at Oakland, January 10, 1877, and in operation for a year, the New Orleans Picayune exclaims: "Fancy what might have happened without the new system in the first weeks and the Universities of Berlin and of the war!"

Fortunately we do not have to fancy. We know exactly what happened then "without the new system," for the new system then tered the service of the Bureau of had none but a skeleton existence. But there then stood on the stat- Mines and became chief chemist of the ute books a most excellent Republican enactment, known as the Ald San Francisco laboratory. At a modrich-Vreeland law and providing for an issue of a well fortified est compensation he is giving much of emergency currency. A Democratic administration made use of that Republican law and issued the necessary currency-which saved the situation "in the first few weeks of the war."

The annual report of the Democratic Secretary of the Treasury will bear evidence to this and we commend the facts to the Picayune and to other Democrats who are inclined to run riot in exultation.

The solidarity of Republican and Progressive strength in Congress had an impressive demonstration in the first record votes which the from the regular order of inventors house took at this session-those connected with the extension of "war taxes" in times of peace. Not a Republican, not a Progressive voted for the measure, admittedly obnoxious, as Mr. Kitchin, the Democratic leader said. And, to show the other side of the shield, five had established. American and Eu- all had a hell of a time. Democrats left the reservation and voted against the measure. The debate was spirited and, on the Republican side, indicated again the reunion of Republican sentiment and action against the old-time foe It was a good curtain-raiser for more interesting performances yet to come.

Do you farmers think you could have marketed this enormous cropat a price that would have covered the cost of production, if there had been no war in Europe? If not, are you going to let a lot of cheap politicians make you believe that the Democratic party brought you big crops and big prices?

PREPAREDNESS PLAN

People Should Think For Themselves and Avoid Political Buncombe.

Washington, January 10 .- To those who may be carried away by the cooked-up enthusiasm of the "preparedness" campaign now being conducted throughout the country by the munition interests and those patriotic societies that are misled by insidious influences to see great danger threatening the United States, it is well to consider an editorial printed recently in the Corona (Cal.) Courier. California, be it remembered, is one of the favorite stamping grounds of the war jingo, where the peril of the Japanese is ever and anon flaunted to stir up "patriotism."

Says this sensible editor, in discussing the political issues of 1916, as quoted from the Literary Digest:

"The issue should not be that old ghost of an issue, the tariff, but rather a return of truly business administration, run on business principles, with a view of getting the greatest returns for the money spent. All this talk of a greater army and navy is pure buncombe, and the administration should be big enough to see the hidden graft. If only the people would do a little thinking for themselves and not let the big dailies do it all!"

Henry Ford, who is vastly interested in the so-called "preparedness" campaign, said recently after reading much in the newspaper about the matter: "I would like to know how much of this patriotic fevor the editors talk about comes from the hearts of the American citizen and how much from the pocketbook of the men who expect to land the contract for equipping the big military forces proposed. In the first place I think the American knows the country to be in need of no vast armed force, for with that comes the beginning of the end of democracy, and in the second place I think he is too shrewd to permit any such program to be stuffed down his throat by men who are going to make money out of it."

SOME RECORD

Treasurer's Annual Report Shows Something Out of the Ordinary.

The annual report of the treasurer of the town of Dover discloses the fact that the town has no need for peace officers.

During the year there was collected for fines only $8, and $2.45 was paid W. H. Thomas for taking the prisoner to jail and $1 to Mr. Thomas for feeding the prisoner, leaving the town's cash box a balance of $4.55 out of the $8 collected.

If there is another community the size of Dover that can beat this record, let's hear from it.

Washington, D. C .- Republicans in Congress this winter will be relentless in exposing the weakness and the disaster which have characterized Democratic administration of national affairs-but they will not content themselves with a program of mere negation. Against every Democratic proposal for the raising of revenue, for defense or for any other purpose of national scope and interest, the Republicans will present their own well grounded plans for legislation, so that the issues may be clearly defined.

Some of these Republican proposals will have to await the completion of the Democratic program for the ses-Others, however, are already Rogers' Springs. Our present navy in a sudden war would require hundreds of auxiliary ships beyond the present resources of our mercantile marine and an enlarged navy would need many more. The value of these merchant vessels would be increased by Senator Gallinger's provision that they must carry a certain number of American boys to be trained in seamanship or engineering. Thus the shipowners in return for the compensation intended to place them on a fair equality in wage costs with their foreign competitors, would be rendering a specific service to the entire nation, apart from and beyond the

The United States pays to American ships under contract for carrying the mails a little more than $1,000,000 and receives it all back and more in ocean postage. Japan extends $5,000,000 or $6,000,000, and even Canada about $3,-000,000. The cost of the Gallinger bill would be perhaps $5,000,000 with Pacific and Atlantic lines established.
